

Amy Hill Autograph Book

Amy was a VAD nurse at the Cleeve Hill Hospital 1914 -1919

“Corporal Turner”

Have a good look at this little picture. It was drawn by one of the soldiers who were convalescing at Cleeve Hill hospital in Frenchay during the First World War.

This is an image of an injured serviceman who has come from a battlefield. It tells us a great deal about life in the Cleeve Hill Hospital.

The soldier is resting in a plain but clean and comfortable bed. Beside him is a table with a gramophone with the records on the shelf below. His boots are at the end of his bed. There are wild flowers in a vase on his bedside table with a few other odds and ends. There is a notice board over his bed and a wall light.

Activity: 1 English

Write a short story about the journey of this soldier from the battlefield to the hospital. Or tell us about the person who is drawing the picture, where is he and why is he there; is he a friend of this exhausted soldier?

Activity: 2 Art

Draw your own postcard size picture in this style. Look at the little details. Look at the shading that gives depth. Try to do your drawing from observation, so choose to draw something that is in front of you, maybe your bedroom.

Use:

Fine black pen, or pencil.
